

Company Profile of BuCET AG

The BuCET AG is a non-publicly traded stock company, and was founded in 1999. Since the year 2000 the company is located in Idstein. In addition, we maintain an office in Langen. Our business partners come from different industrial sectors. As a service provider, we concentrate on the following services:

Consulting

As professional business consultants, we operate objectively and treat your information confidentially. Being an independent enterprise, we can consult impartially. Our primary objective is, through partnership with you and your staff, to support you in achieving your individual goals.

Engineering

Our specialists from various fields combine engineering know-how with comprehensive industry expertise and support you on practical and economic processes in the specific implementation of your projects. We develop our individual solutions in our own technical offices or at the customer's premises.

Technology

Cutting edge technology inspires us. We develop specific, tailor-made systems and devices which are based on the latest hardware and software. Innovative solutions open up new ways for our customers to carry out their tasks. We support the development of your product from idea to marketability.

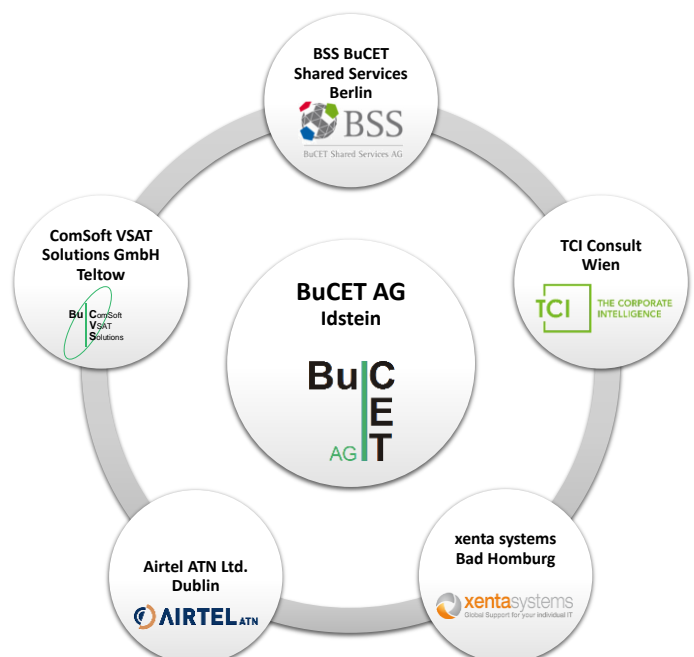

Our Team

Our team consists of experts with experience gained from national and international projects. For your individual project, you have a choice of competent team members: engineers of communications and electrical engineering, of systems and mechanical engineering with additional qualifications for aerospace and/or project and quality management, physicists, economists, computer scientists. BuCET AG has been successful in national and international projects since 1999.
